

Privacy Policy

Last Updated: June 2026

Nicholas Pension Consultants (“NPC,” “we,” “our,” or “us”) maintains this website for informational purposes.

We do not collect personal information through general use of this website. We may collect personal information when voluntarily provided in connection with seminar registrations or similar inquiries, including name, email address, phone number, and related professional information. Seminar registration may be conducted through third-party platforms, including Constant Contact, and information submitted is subject to those providers’ privacy practices.

We may automatically collect limited technical information (such as IP address and server log data) for security and operational purposes.

We use personal information only to process registrations, communicate event details, and respond to inquiries.

We do not sell or share personal information and do not use information for advertising, profiling, or tracking.

We use only essential cookies necessary for basic website functionality.

We retain information only as long as necessary for operational and legal purposes and may disclose information to service providers supporting website operations or as required by law.

Under the California Consumer Privacy Act, as amended by the California Privacy Rights Act, California residents may request access to, deletion of, or correction of personal information by contacting:
privacy@nicholaspension.com

NPC may use SMS (text messaging) for business communications with employees, contractors, prospective job applicants, seminar registrants, and other individuals who provide their contact information. Message frequency varies based on operational needs. Individuals may opt in by providing their mobile number through company forms, applications, event registrations, or other direct interactions. Recipients may opt out at any time by replying STOP. They may reply HELP for assistance or contact NPC at privacy@nicholaspension.com. Message and data rates may apply. SMS opt-in and phone numbers collected for SMS communication purposes will not be shared with any third party and affiliates for marketing purposes.

We implement reasonable safeguards to protect information and may update this policy from time to time.